What is Erie Day of Code?

EDoC is a one-day conference held in scenic Erie, PA for software developers of all skill levels to meet and learn.

The event is co-organized by members of Coderie, the city's monthly meetup group for software developers, and Radius CoWork, the city's coworking community.

Every year we bring incredible speakers from around the country to come share their expert knowledge with over 200 of the region's top developers. There is something for everyone; software engineering, team management, tool demos, community building, and more, including a killer after party!

Why Sponsor?

Along with the credibility you garner among attendees, speakers, and other sponsors, your support helps both your business and our city grow by:

- Bringing attention to Erie's software development talent
- Enhancing technical and professional skills of current and potential employees
- Creating an opportunity for local professionals to learn from one another, improving performance through skill-sharing
- Giving you direct access to a talent pool of regional developers to get to know and possibly hire
- Building relations between developers, project managers, designers, and more to broaden their professional networks
- Boosting morale among your employees and the community
- Just being rad
